University of the Highlands and Islands Orkney College

Did you know that Orkney College UHI is as good as the University of Oxford?

UHI Institute for Northern Studies was rated 5th equal with the University of Oxford in the Research Excellence Framework 2014 which reviews all the universities in the UK. We were also first in Scotland.

Over the past year we have continued to proudly present our series of popular online seminars, led by some of our visiting staff. Seminars are open to everyone online. Upcoming dates and topics will be available soon. Recordings of past seminars are all available to watch on our website.

The highly successful 5th St. Magnus Conference held in April of 2021 is also available to watch online through our website.

Institute for Northern Studies

WHAT OUR STUDENTS SAY

"I enjoyed the way the course made me think and how it stretched my mind. I loved the cross-cutting nature of the course, and the way that one area illuminated what you were learning in another, bringing it all together. This helped me understand the country that I live and grew up in, in ways that I hadn't before. The standard of the materials provided were great and varied in nature. The thing that really topped off my experience was the people. The lecturers were all so helpful and diverse in their ways of teaching, enhancing the learning experience. I studied alongside great students from all over the world and we learnt from each other as well as from the materials."

Liz Hunter, MLitt Scottish Heritage

"The degree gave me the opportunity to explore a broad curriculum of arts and humanities subjects which also supported a vertical approach to research and learning, encouraging me to embark on live research through subjects pertinent to daily life, histories and environmental contexts. After completing my undergraduate degree with the Institute for Northern Studies I undertook a masters and am now working on my PhD in Curating Heritage for Sustainable Communities in Highly Vulnerable Environments."

Cait McCullagh, BA (Hons) Culture & Heritage
